CyberData
The IP Endpoint Company

October 31, 2017

CyberData New Feature Announcement: All SIP & Singlewire-enabled Keypad Intercoms Now Support 500 Access Codes

Monterey, CA - CyberData Corporation today announced a new feature that is now available in its line of SIP and Singlewire-enabled Intercoms. All Keypad Intercoms, as well as the latest Secure Access Control Keypad support 500 Access codes.

Devices shipping now include this new feature.
This latest feature is available as a firmware download via each device's product page. Check the tab marked downloads. Be sure to check based on your serial #.

011113 SIP Indoor New feature available via firmware download for serial # beginning 1131
011307 Singlewire Indoor New feature available via firmware download for serial # beginning 3071

011123 SIP Indoor Flush mount New feature available via firmware download for serial # beginning 1231
011308 Singlewire Indoor Flush Mount New feature available via firmware download for serial # beginning 3081

011433 Secure Access Control Keypad New feature available via firmware download, all releases

011214 SIP Outdoor Keypad Intercom New feature available via firmware download for serial # beginning 2141
011310 Singlewire Outdoor Keypad New feature available via firmware download for serial beginning 3101