CyberData Welcomes Dan Marchetto to the CyberData Family!

We are pleased to let everyone know that CyberData has a new addition to the team! Please welcome Dan Marchetto, who will be taking on the role of Director of VoIP Technical Sales here at CyberData. Dan resides in and will be working from his Chicago, IL office, with scheduled visits to the peninsula, when traveling can resume.

Dan brings with him a wealth of experience in developing and deploying collaboration software (SaaS) and hardware and IoT to address a broad range of productivity issues and opportunities.

Dan was VP of Sales and part of a small team that launched Meeting Owl, a unique huddle space video conferencing experience and the Hottest Tech Startup at the 2019 NEVY Awards.

His previous positions and experience include Sr VP, Sales & Marketing for Phoenix Audio Technologies and Director of North American Distribution at ClearOne. Prior to that, Dan was Director of Sales, Voice and Web Products for Polycom.

Dan is the right person to take on this role at CyberData and we're excited to work with him as we grow sales(2X!) here at CyberData. He's experienced, thoughtful, highly motivated and is a great addition to the CyberData team.
